There were July 1st, this year, 76,691 postoffices in this country against 70,360 on July 1st, 1896, an increase of 6,331.

Eight dozen frogs were stolen from the Chicago University the other day and it made the University fellows hopping mad.

That Kentucky man who married a fourteen-year-old 180-pound girl doubtless thought he got a big hunk of sweetness.

The "hoodlum" demonstration over Teddy Roosevelt, in Elmira, N. Y., Monday, looks very much like another Rooseveltian put-up job.

How cheap Webster Davis must have felt when he learned from McKinley boosters that he got only $125,000 for talking for the Boers, and Montague White got a round $1,000,000.

Ex-President Harrison said, "I regard the Porto Rico tariff bill as a most serious departure from right principles." He said this when that bill was under discussion in Congress, and thinks so yet, but he will vote for the party that is responsible because he lacks the nerve to vote against the party.

The dog owners of the town of Rochelle, N. Y., would give seventy-five cents to run up with the fellow who sneaked around with a bag of poisoned food and got away with $10,000 worth of dogs in that burg. He passed the common cur with contempt and gave attention only to aristocratic dogs of high degree.

Up to the time of McKinley we had acquired by purchase, annexation and treaty 3,692,126 square miles of territory, since then 138,399 square miles of insular possessions, the biggest part of which we are still fighting for. There has been more fuss, money spent and bloodshed over McKinley's 138,399 miles than over all the rest put together.

Admiral Schley, who is at Rio Janeiro, declined an invitation to attend the Bryan meeting in New York on the ground that he is out of politics and proposes to devote all his time to the business he is employed in. Seafaring men, as a general thing, don't see much fun in poltics. There was Admiral Dewey, for instance. He had hardly got in before he got (left) out.

A Hagerstown, Md., merchant who is a Republican, thought he would do a smart thing and in ordering his goods put a P. S. at the bottom that the order was to be cancelled if Bryan wins. To his surprise, the firm he wrote to, being Republicans, published his letter; and then he was surprised again when his Democratic customers began to cancel their orders. At last accounts he was looking for some sympathizing friend to take him into a back lot and kick him some.

LOCAL DOTS.

— The Clyde steamship Oneida cleared at 1 o'clock this morning for Georgetown, S. C.

— Cotton receipts yesterday were only 235 bales against 2,992 received on the same day last year.

— Mr. Robert N. Harriss has shipped as mate on the schooner Frank W. McCullough which cleared yesterday for Fall River, Mass.

— Wm. Lloyd, colored, was tried by Justice Fowler yesterday for assault and battery, found guilty and committed on account of failure to pay fine and costs.

— The STAR is indebted to Miss Ida Hardin and Mr. S. W. Sanders for a fresh supply of persimmons. The horse editor regrets that he was not "at home" when the visitors called.

— The government clam shell tug Ajax, which has been at the government yard getting a new hull casting, has got her repairs and gone back to work on Brunswick River Shoals.

— A gentleman named Padgett, hailing from Onslow county, arrived in the city yesterday. He said he was 51 years old and it was the first time in his life he had ridden on a train and "that he liked it pretty well."

— Col. Oliver H. Dockery, in a column and a half article in the Charlotte Observer, accepts the Republican nomination for Congress in this district, with all the empty honor there may be in it for him.

— The funeral of little Carrie May Culpepper, whose death was noted in yesterday's STAR, was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence of her parents, No. 8 Castle street. The services were by Rev. Father Dennen and the interment was in Oakdale.

— Sheriff D. R. Walker, of Brunswick county, was in the city yesterday. He wore a McKinley button on the right and Carr button on the left side of his vest. The Sheriff was very cheerful, and before his departure for home he made a small bet with a Market street Democrat that Carr would get more votes in the primary than Simmons would.

Freight Train Wrecked.

Passenger train No. 49, on the W. and W. road, which is due here at 6 P. M., did not arrive last night until 11.20 o'clock. The delay was caused by a wreck on the Norfolk and Carolina road early yesterday morning. Second No. 78, a freight train of the Southern Railway, jumped the track at Turney, Va., a small station six miles this side of Suffolk, and thirteen cars were badly wrecked. No one was hurt. Traffic was stopped for six hours before the wreck could be cleared. A wreck train, going to the wreck, ran into a material train at Suffolk, but the damage was slight.

Small Fire Last Evening.

A fire in an old wooden shed next east of and belonging to the Carolina Rice Mills on Chesnut street called out the department at 7:27 o'clock last night in response to an alarm from box 25. The origin of the fire, which was quickly extinguished, is unknown. The damage will not exceed $100.

THE FEDERAL COURT

Term is Marked by the Rapidity With Which the Docket is Being Cleared.

MAY FINISH BY FRIDAY NEXT.

Long List of Cases Disposed of Yesterday. The York Trial May Come Up To-day—Three Attorneys Admitted to Practice in U. S. Courts.

The Federal Court is holding long sessions this term and is disposing of cases with remarkable dispatch in order to clear the docket in one week, to give Judge Purnell an opportunity of sitting as a member of the Circuit Court of Appeals, which meets at Richmond, November 6th. It looks now as if the business of the court will be completed as early as Friday afternoon.

All the cases tried yesterday were of little importance and the session was marked only by the large number of them disposed of. The day's session opened at 9:30 o'clock A. M., and continued until 1:45 P. M. when a recess lasting until 3 o'clock was taken for dinner. The afternoon session continued until 5 o'clock when adjournment was again taken until the usual hour this morning.

Assistant District Attorney Spears arrived yesterday and has taken up his duties and is aiding materially in the rush to dispose of all the cases on the docket.

The case against J. L. York, in which many Wilmington people are interested, will likely come up to-day or to morrow. The bill was drawn and sent to the grand jury yesterday afternoon but it had not been acted upon by them when the day's work was finished yesterday.

A pleasing incident of Monday's and yesterday's sessions was the qualification of and admission to practice in the court of Messrs. William J. Bellamy and Thomas W. Alexander, of the Wilmington bar and Mr. John Gilchrist McCormick, a talented young attorney of the Maxton bar.

The following cases have been disposed of:

Angus McGoogan, retailing without license; order for alias capias and continued.

Lawrence Roper, retailing; defendant dead, case abated.

John Spinks and Henry Best, retailing; defendant Best called and failed; judgment nisi, sci. fa. and capias issued.

Lawrence Roper and W. H. Nea; defendant Roper dead and case abated.

H. F. Thomas, illicit distilling; defendant called and failed; judgment nisi, sci. fa. and capias issued.

G. M. Taylor, two cases, violating internal revenue laws; called and failed; judgment nisi, sci fa. and capias issued. Witness recognized.

Isam Jones, retailing; verdict guilty; sentenced to sixty days imprisonment and fined $100 and costs.

Mag Murray, retailing; waves bill and pleads guily; sixty days in jail and $100 fine and costs.

Isam Jones and D. A. Patterson, sci fa.; forfeited recognizance; sci fa. dismissed on answer filed.

Ed. P. McEachern, retailing; called and failed; judgment nisi sci fa. and capias issued.

Francis Locklear, retailing; called and failed; order for capias and continued.

Sarah Jones, retailing; called and failed; order for capias and continued.

Flora Oxendine, retailing; nol prossed with leave.

H. G. Grady and Kinsey McIntyre, removing and concealing spirits; continued on motion of government attorney, on proposition of compromise.

United States vs. seven barrels whiskey, etc.; libel of information; same as in above case.

Melvin Spearman, retailing; plead not guilty; verdict not guilty.

Thos. Hopkins, retailing; order for alias capias and continued.

Charles McLean, retailing; not guilty.

Talmage Merritt, distilling; order for capias for J. G. Lewis, a witness.

Silas Norris, order for capias for J. G. Lewis, a witness, case continued.

Thomas Hopkins and Sandy A. Thomas, sci fa, defaulting defendant; by consent judgment absolute for amount of bond, defendant to be discharged on payment of cost of sci fa.

E. P. McEachern and M. L. McRae sci fa for defaulting defendant, judgment absolute according to sci fa for $200 and costs.

Neill Prince, illicit distilling, pleaded guilty; sentenced to four months in jail, $100 fine and costs.

John Freeman, retailing; verdict guilty.

Charles Butler, judgment suspended; defendant discharged, it appearing that he has been in jail three months.

Noah Nobles, retailing, plead guilty, judgment four months in jail, $100 fine and costs.

T. Morgan Turrentine, violation war revenue act; defendant plead guilty as on information filed. Paid costs and penalty of fifty per cent. additional tax.

Henry F. Hall, retailing, judgement suspended on payment of costs.

Frank Alford, retailing, defendant discharged.

Andrew Johnson, retailing, verdict guilty; and prayer for judgement continued. Defendant discharged.

The grand jury returned the following true bills for retailing: Eliza Lowrey, Charles Butler, John Freeman, Charles McLean, Luke Revels alias Luther Hawley, Noah Nobles, Caroline Butler. Not a true bill as is against Pharoah Hill and H. K. Buie, of Cumberland county.

A true bill was found against Malcom McNeill, of Cumberland county, for illicit distilling.

SIMMONS' CLUB MEETING.

Well Attended and Enthusiastic Assemblage of State Chairman's Friends. Speeches by Prominent Men.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Simmons' Democratic Club was held last night in the Court House, there having been a fair and representative attendance from all the wards.

President Stevenson was in the chair and George H. Howell and William J. Bellamy, Esqs., acted as secretaries.

A number of matters were discussed, but the only action of interest to the public in general was the appointment by the President, upon motion, of a finance committee, composed as follows: W. H. Bernard (chairman), Walker Taylor, F. H. Stedman, H. McL. Green, T. J. Presson, J. N. Bennett, George Harriss, M. O'Brien, S. H. Fishblate, G. J. Boney and B. F. King.

After the disposal of the business before the club there were calls for Walter H. Neal, Esq., of Laurinburg, who, as chairman of the State Board of Elections, is here to attend a meeting of that body. Mr. Neal made a very conservative and plain speech to the audience, touching upon the services of Chairman Simmons to the party and State at large, his eminent fitness for the position to which he aspires and his experience with the Constitutional Amendment requisite to a proper defence of the same in case it is attacked upon the floor of the Senate. Mr. Neal was given warmest applause throughout his remarks.

President Stevenson next called upon Capt. J. D. McNeill, of Fayetteville, and he responded in a speech characteristic of the worthy son of Cumberland that he is. He dwelt upon the fact that North Carolina owes to Chairman Simmons a debt of gratitude and predicted confidently that it would pay it with an overwhelming majority in November. He closed with a jocular remark as to the length of Mr. Neal's speech, and sat down amid applause heartily joined in by the object of his stinging witticism.

After the meeting of the club, the finance committee held a short session, at which private matters were discussed.

AN AFTERNOON MARRIAGE.

Yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock, a quiet but very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Morrill on North sixth street, in the marriage of their daughter, Miss Julia, to Mr. W. L. Robinson, formerly of Wilmington, but now of New York and second assistant engineer on the transport Crook operating between New York and Havana, Cuba.

The wedding was quiet on account of a recent bereavement in the family of the groom and only a few invited friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony.

The parlor of the home was handsomely decorated for the event and in the absence of the Rev. Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell, pastor of the bride's church, the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Payseur, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left on the 7 o'clock northbound A. C. L. train last evening for New York, where they will make their future home.

BRIDAL PARTY COMPLIMENTED.

Oyster Roast Given at Masonboro Sound. The Occasion Was Most Enjoyable.

A most delightful oyster roast was given yesterday afternoon at the old Anderson home on Masonbore Sound complimentary to the bridal party which will participate in the Farrior-McKoy wedding this evening. The party left the city at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in wagonettes and returned last night at 10:30 o'clock. It was a sumptuous occasion and one thoroughly enjoyed by every one who was present.

The following composed the party: Mr. E. N. Farrior and Miss McKoy, Major and Mrs. McKoy, Mrs. M. O. Farrior, of Charlotte; Messrs. E. A. McKoy and A. C. Symmes, of Cincinnati; Plato Durham, of Durham; Miss Elizabeth Parrott, of Dayton, O.; Messrs. Walter Farrior and W. E. Farrior of Charlotte; Miss Lillian Slocumb, of Fayetteville; Miss Annie Gudger, of Waynesville; Miss Sadie Haines, of Winston; Dr. C. P. Bolles, Miss Tallulah DeRosset, Miss Lina Wiggins, Miss Fannie Green, Miss Mary Wootten, Miss Mary Nash, Miss Lucy Wootten; Dr. Stewart, of Charleston; Messrs. G. W. Brunson and J. J. Blair.

Naval Reserves' Promotions.

At a meeting of Wilmington Division, Naval Reserves, last night the following promotions of petty officers were mane upon the recent retirement of Boatswain Mate D. D. Barber, who joined the reserve corps:

S. K. DeVaney, gunner's mate of first class to boatswain mate of first class.

W. R. Middleton, quartermaster of first class to gunner's mate of first class.

A. A. Hergenrother, boatswain mate of second class to quartermaster of first class.

Alex. Greenebaum, gunner's mate of second class to boatswain mate of second class.

A. L. Price, quartermaster of second class to gunner's mate of second class.

J. L. Middleton, coxswain's mate to quartermaster of first class.

J. H. LeGwin, second coxswain to first coxswain.

W. R. Stewart, third coxswain to second coxswain.

A. Prempert, fourth coxswain to third coxswain.

A. F. Gibson, seaman to fourth coxswain.

THE MASONIC FAIR.

Flower Committee Met Last Evening and Decided Upon Prize List—Another Meeting Thursday.

The Flower Committee, which has in charge the floral arrangements for the Masonic Fair next month, met in the Masonic Temple yesterday evening and arranged the prize list for the coming event. Mr. T. F. Bagley was chairman of the meeting and Mr. John R. Turrentine, Jr., secretary. The ladies' committee, of which Mrs. S. H. Fishblate is chairman, was also present.

The following are the prizes offered:

First prize—For the most handsome display of growing plants, $10 in cash.

Second prize—For most handsome growing chrysanthemums, with one or more blooms, $5 in cash.

Third prize—For the most handsome out-door plants, $5 in cash.

Fourth prize—For the most handsome display of in-door plants, $5 in cash.

Fifth prize—For the most handsome display of cut chrysanthemums, $5 in cash.

Sixth prize—For the most handsome display of cut flowers, $5 in cash.

After the prizes have been awarded, it was ruled by the committee, that the cut flowers should go into the hands of the fair management for sale for the benefit of the Temple Corporation.

The following additional ladies were appointed on the committee: Misses Nan Huggins, Ida Brown, Jennie Burbank, Mildred Davis, Daisy Burbank, Mary Black, Bessie Gore, Carrie Moore, Marcella Shrier, Lilla Bellamy, Mesdames J. H. Rehder, Frank Huggins, Bessie Gore.

The committee adjourned to meet Thursday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock in the reading room of the Masonic Temple.

The exact date of the fair has not yet been decided upon, but it will likely be agreed upon at the meeting on Thursday.

TILESTON ATHLETIC ASSO'N.

Held Important Meeting Last Night—Captain Smallbones Resigned and Mr. Wiggs Elected in His Stead.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Tileston Athletic Association was held last night in the Y. M. C. A. building for the purpose of considering foot ball matters.

On account of press of other business, Mr. Harry G. Smallbones, Jr., found it necessary to resign the captaincy of the team now in practice and Mr. Lester B. Wiggs was elected in his stead. Mr. C. S. Hopkins was named on the Advisory Board of the Association, vice Mr. Frank Pinner, who is sick and unable to attend to his duties as a member of the same.

Foot ball prospects in general were discussed and it was found that the Association team goes into the field this year under more favorable circumstances than ever before. The team has had the advantage of good practice and this is still being kept up. A special practice will be held this evening beginning promptly at 8 o'clock and all members of the team are earnestly requested to meet at that hour on corner of Third and Chestnut streets.

Arrangements are being made for a game here with the Red Spring Military Academy on November 16th, and the games with Goldsboro and Fayetteville are practically assured.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed at the office of the Register of Deeds yesterday, transferring property as follows:

Heinrich W. Konig to C. Rodolph Pope, property on southeast corner of Seventh and Harnett streets, $1,450.

Edward Robinson and wife, of Liberty, to F. P. Lamb, property on the south side of Miller street, between MacRae and Ninth, $550.

W. C. Parker and wife to John W. Batson, property on the east side of Eighth street, between Dock and Orange, $350.

Will Be Buried in Bladen.

The remains of Mrs. Leonora Shipman, who died Monday afternoon at her home in this city, corner of MacRae and Walnut streets, were taken yesterday afternoon over the Seaboard Air Line railroad to Rosindale, Bladen county, N. C., where the interment will be made. The deceased lady leaves to mourn their loss, a sorrowing husband, and an aged father residing in Bladen county. Services were conducted from the residence yesterday by Rev. J. J. Payseur, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist Church.

Una Clayton Company.

A large audience greeted the second performance of the Una Clayton Company at the Opera House last night. "A Midnight Masquerade" was the play, and the performance throughout was higgly entertaining and amusing. The Chinese specialty introduced by the Hewlettes was the hit of the evening, Mr. R. A. Hewlette, one of the actors in this scene, being a native of this city.

Mr. Creasy Succeeds Mr. King.

Mr. W. M. Creasy, the clever and popular travelling auditor of the Atlantic Coast Line for this division, has been promoted to the office of chief clerk to the general superintendent, succeeding Mr. Joe T. King, who November 1st will take the position of general freight agent in this city. A successor to Mr. Creasy has not yet been appointed.

WILL ELECT BRYAN.

Significant Forecast by the New York Journal Very Gratifying to Democrats.

WELL FOUNDED PREDICTION.

From Exhaustive and Unbiased Reports from Doubtful States the Journal is Constrained to Say Bryan Will Win Without New York.

Monday's New York Journal presents a comprehensive review of the presidential situation over the entire United States, and basing its prediction upon carefully investigated conditions in doubtful States; candid opinions of best informed men of both parties; views of independents and exhaustive reports of its correspondents in every State, who were charged that the paper "wanted the information for its readers and that it must be absolutely accurate in order to have news value," it declares that Bryan will win without New York and will carry that State, too.

The Journal indulges in this very plausible reasoning:

"Leaving New York out of the calculation, Bryan is certain of 197 votes. With the 36 votes of New York, Bryan will have 233, or 9 more than enough to elect.

"Leaving New York out, Bryan will need only 27 votes to triumph. Illinois and Delaware will do it, or Illinois and Washington. Any two of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio will win for him.

"The States that are conceded to be doubtful have a total of 117 electoral votes. Out of this 117, Bryan is as sure of getting the needed 27 as he is sure that he is a candidate. Bryan's chances in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois are better than McKinley's. There are a dozen combinations that mean defeat for McKinley, and William J. Bryan will be the next President of these United States."

In its summary the Journal gives:

To McKinley—Maine, 6; Vermont, 4; New Hampshire, 4; Massachusetts, 15; Rhode Island, 4; Connecticut, 6; Pennsylvania, 32; New Jersey, 10; Michigan, 14; Wisconsin, 12; Iowa, 13; Minnesota, 9; Oregon, 4. Total electoral votes, 133.

To Bryan—Maryland, 8; West virginia, 6; Virginia, 12; North Carolina, 11; South Carolina, 9; Georgia, 13; Florida, 4; Alabama, 11; Tennessee, 12; Kentucky, 13; Mississippi, 9; Louisiana, 8; Missouri, 17; Arkansas, 8; South Dakota, 4; Nebraska, 8; Kansas, 10; Texas, 15; Colorado, 4; Wyoming, 3; Montana, 3; Idaho, 3; Utah, 3; Nevada, 3. Total, 197.

Doubtful—New York, 36; Delaware, 3; North Dakota, 3; Ohio, 23; Indiana, 15; Illinois, 24; California, 9; Washington, 4. Total 117.

The recapitulation, therefore, shows, for Bryan 197; for McKinley, 133; doubtful, 117. Total, 447. Necessary to a choice, 224.

ELECTION BOARD DIDN'T MEET.

Republican Member Freeman Missed Train Connection—Adjourned Till To-day.

Republican member A. B. Freeman, of Henderson, at whose instance conjointly with the Populist member, C. H. Johnston, of Sampson, the meeting of the State Board of Elections was called to be held here yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock, telegraphed Chairman Walter H. Neal yesterday morning that he had missed train connection at Spartanburg, S. C., and would not get here in time for the meeting as expected. The session of the board was accordingly adjourned in deference to him until this morning at 9 o'clock.

The supposed reason for the meeting was outlined in yesterday's STAR, but the object of the gentlemen who requested the meeting will not be definitely known until the meeting is actually in session.

BARQUE ELIEZER IN TROUBLE.

Steamer Reports Having Passed Her in Disabled Condition on October 14th.

A dispatch dated Rocheford, Oct. 29th, says:

The British steamer Dartmoor, Capt. Baines, from Pensacola, October 1, via Norfolk, October 9, arrived here today, and reported having passed in a disabled condition, October 14, in latitude 40 north, longitude 55 west, the Norwegian bark Eliezer, Capt. Marcussen, which sailed from Wilmington, N. C., September 25, for London. The Eliezer's mainmast, foretopgallant mast, and mizzentop mast had been carried away and her bulwarks damaged in a gale. Assistance was offered but none was required by the Eliezer.

[The Eliezer cleared this port Sept. 23rd for London, England, with a cargo of 5,947 barrles rosin consigned by the S. P. Shotter Company through its representative here, Mr. Matt. J. Heyer.]

Travelling Men For Bryan.

Washington Post: A party of ten commercial travellers who had gathered in the lobby of the National Hotel Saturday evening fell into a discussion of politics. Finally a poll of the ten was made, and it developed that all of them were for Bryan, and expected to go home and vote at the election next Tuesday. One of them told of a poll of fifty-seven commercial travellers in the Bates House, Indianapolis, last week, which showed that fifty-two were for Bryan and five for McKinley. One of the clerks at the National, who has wagered money on McKinley and thinks of going to his home in Maryland to vote for him, vouches for the correctness of the story just given.

LOCAL MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

News of the Shipping in Wilmington's Harbor—Arrivals and Departures.

The British steamship Wandby, 2,580 tons, Capt. Pearson, arrrived yesterday to Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, from Hull, for a cargo of cotton. She carried a cargo of cotton from this port last season.

The British steamship Daleby, Capt. Lewis, cleared yesterday for Bremen, with a cargo of 12,364 bales of cotton consigned by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son and valued at $625,000.

The schooner Frank W. McCullough cleared yesterday for Fall River with a cargo of 118,950 feet of lumber from the Cape Fear Lumber Company.

The schooner Lucia Porter arrived yesterday from New York to Messrs. J. T. Riley & Co., for a cargo of lumber from the Chadbourn Lumber Company.

The schooners Harry W. Haynes, Alma and Estelle, bound out from Wilmington, passed out at Southport at 8 A. M. yesterday. The tug Protector, with the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company's barges Carrie L. Tyler and Maria Dolores, for Charleston, passed out at noon.

The British steamship Kassala, bound out from Wilmington with a cargo of cotton for Liverpool, passed out at 2 P. M.

Will Come to Orton.

Raleigh Times: "Mr. Alex. Baxter, day clerk at the Yarborough House in this city, has accepted the position as chief clerk at The Orton House in Wilmington, and will enter upon his duties there about November first. Mr. Baxter has been at the Yarborough for several years and has made hundreds of friends by his uniform courtesy to all. He is an up-to date hotel man, always considerate of the comfort and pleasure of the guests. During his stay here Mr. Baxter has also won a place in the esteem of Raleigh's young people and he will be missed in the social circles of the capital city. The Orton is to be congratulated on securing the services of Mr. Baxter, and he may be assured that he carries with him the best wishes of the people of Raleigh."

Wedding this Evening.

The Farrior-McKoy wedding which will be celebrated at St. James' Episcopal church at 6 o'clock this afternoon will be one of the most fashionable marriages that has been solemnized in Wilmington for some time. The contracting parties are exceedingly popular and the wedding will be a decided social event.

Revenue Cutters Sail.

The four little revenue cutters for the Cuban waters, whose arrival at Southport Sunday was noted in yesterday's STAR, expected to have sailed for Charleston at midnight last night, accompanied by the Wilmington cutter Algonquin. It is learned that they received a supply of coal from the Algonquin and will join vessel No. 10 at Charleston.

Dr. Peck, the Charlotte Eye Specialist, will be at The Orton House until November 1st.

FOR WHOSE BENEFIT?

When the acquired territory on this continent was purchased and became the property of the United States the whole people of the United States were benefitted thereby for there were boundless areas of fertile lands to make homes for millions. There was wisdom in such acquisition aside from the wisdom which provided for our protection by securing possession of territory which in the hands of a rival power might become a serious menance to our safety. No living man questions the wisdom of their acquisition now, acquisitions which, by the way, were made in a perfectly legitmate way, without any taint, crookedness, deception or violation of faith. It required no armies to secure the recognition of our title, and with the exception of the force it was necessary to occasionally use to keep the Indians within bounds, there was no need of soldiers.

Why? Because the subjects of the countries from which the purchases were made were assured that they would be given all the rights and privileges of American citizens, and they were. That was annexation in the past, quite different from the annexation by powder and shot and carnage as we see it illustrated in the Philippines.

For whose benefit is this forcible expansion being carried out? Is it to make room for more homes for Americans? Where is the room? All of those habitable islands worth inhabiting are already the property of people who hold them by inheritance or by purchase. The best of them are now densely populated, more so than any State in this Union, with the exception of one or two. But even if the lands could be acquired at reasonable cost, those of them that have not been brought under cultivation are covered by a dense tropical forest growth that makes the clearing a herculean task and exceedingly expensive. No man of limited means could or would undertake it. It could be done to any considerable extent only by men of wealth.

But if purchasing and clearing were feasible, the climate is against the foreigner and stands as an insurmountable obstacle against settlement by Americans. It would be utterly impossible for their families to live there, and hence immigration is simply out of the question, so that these islands must continue to be the homes of an alien people, who know little or nothing about this country, have little or nothing in common with its people, have no comprehension of the genius of our institutions as we understand them, and probably never will. For whose benefit, then, was the purchase made, and for whose benefit are the hundreds of millions of dollars being expended and the thousands of lives sacrificed?

In his defence of the administration policy as to Porto Rico, Secretary Root said in his Canton speech that every dollar collected in taxes from the Porto Ricans had been expended in the island for the benefit of its people. That's generous, to say the least of it. But is it proposed to pursue the same course with the Philippines? Is every dollar of taxes they pay to go to their particular benefit? If so, how is this country to be benefitted by the deal? How is it going to get back the $20,000,000 purchase money paid and the $200,000,000 already expended in the task of trying to whip them in, not to talk of the millions yet to be expended before the task is accomplished? Is it by the commerce that we expect to build up with them? They, like other people, will buy from the traders with whom they can trade with the best advantage to themselves. If anything were to be gained from favoritism we would have commanded more of their trade by retaining them as grateful friends, feeling themselves under obligations to us, than by making them implacable enemies, who will trade with us only as a matter of necessity and then only when they cannot get what they need from some other quarter. If we succeed in fastening our grip upon them there may possibly be an increase of trade with the islands but it will be with the men who operate enterprises, work mines, saw lumber, cultivate valuable crops, establish perhaps some sort of manufactory and will need machinery and other things to carry out their enterprises. But whom will this benefit? A few syndicates and the Chinamen and native laborers they employ, and maybe also a few men who supply the things they need and buy the things they have to sell. Not one in a thousand Americans will be benefitted by it, directly or indirectly.

But who bears the burden that these few may be benefitted? Who goes through the fearful ordeal of campaign in that country under blazing suns and drenching tropical rains, marching and fighting in mud ankle deep, and sleeping with the saturated soil for a mattress? The soldier, one of the toiling, taxed millions, who has nothing to gain by it and no glory to win. He is not fighting in defence of his country or in vindication of its honor, but simply in a war of conquest against a weaker people who are fighting in defence of their homes and firesides and their right to rule themselves, just as these American soldiers would do if their country was invaded.

For whose benfit, then, is this cruel, wicked war of aggression and conquest waged? For a handful of men only who will profit by it.

NEGROES TAKING THE PLACE OF WHITES.

It seems that the great meat packing establishments of Chicago are filling the places of white men with negroes as rapidly as convenient, the object being to ultimately employ all negroes in such positions as they are found competent to fill. The reasons for this are given in the following from one of the managers of one of the packing establishments, who, being asked if the negroes were more skilful than the white workmen, replied:

"No, the negroes are not more skilful, but they are more obedient. We are putting in negroes here and shall have 6,000 of them by next year because we want workmen to do what we tell them to do. The negro minds his own business and lets his employer's business alone. He lets trades unions alone, does not go on strikes and is willing to work for reasonable wages. He does not think it beneath his dignity to vote in accordance with the interest of his employers. He does not think that he knows everything. When he takes his employer's money he is also willing to take his employer's instructions how to vote."

They find the negro more submissive, less disposed to have opinions on public questions, more willing to think like his bosses think, and to vote as they tell him to vote, that is, when the bosses vote the Republican ticket. Unless the reports are false a great many negroes have been brought into Chicago since this campaign began, to vote the Republican ticket and help save McKinley in that State.

They have had race troubles in Chicago before this and these fellows who are importing negroes to take the places of white men are preparing the way for more of them and for bigger ones, because there the negro workman becomes a very serious factor as far as the white man is concerned, and every man up there who votes the Republican ticket is encouraging that conflict and helping to take the bread out of the mouth of the white workman. Not only that, but he is voting to encourage the inbringing of an element which in the hands of its employers will be used to vote the white workman down until he consents to become as submissive and as pliant in the hands of his employers as the imported negro is.

A New York dispatch to the Washington Star says the Republican prognosticators are claiming the election for McKinley, but concede the labor vote to Bryan. The labor vote ought to elect Bryan. But isn't this an admission that the Democratic party is the laboring man's party, while the Republican party depends on the votes of those who live on the laboring man?

COERCING WORKMEN.

We hear a great deal from Northern Republicans and see a great deal in Republican organs about a "free ballot and a fair count," and we hear and read much about intimidation and the suppression of the negro vote in the South, but the intimidation and the coercion of the voters in the North, where it can be done, is going on all the same, and in some places very openly. The other day a large establishment in Chicago, employing several hundred men, was temporarily closed, the employes being given to understand that when it resumed business preference would be given to those men who had voted for McKinley. The Philadelphia Record is not a Bryan paper. It refuses to support Bryan, and while opposed to McKinley gives him the benefit of its refusal to support Bryan. It, therefore, cannot be suspected of an effort to hurt McKinley by publishing the following from a special correspondence at North Tonawanda, N. Y., under date of the 27th inst.:

Republican coercion of employes, culminating in the discharge of men who refused to show their preference for McKinley and Roosevelt, is the charge made against several large lumber firms in this city. Democrats have taken up the matter and intend to make it warm for the opposition.

"It appears that Patrick Kelly and Charles McCormick have for six years been employed by the H. M. Tyler Lumber Company. Three days ago members of the firm distributed McKinley buttons among their employes, and, with two exceptions, although a number are Democrats, all pinned the buttons on their coats. Kelly and McCormick refused to do so.

"A short time afterward they were told by their foreman to go to the office, where they were handed the amount of money due them and told that their services were no longer required.

"A number of other men have been discharged lately from yards controlled by Republicans, and no explanation of the reason for their discharge has been vouchsafed. They declare they have been discharged simply because they are Democrats and have not hesitated to declare their political opinions.

"Scores of Democrats in lumber yards and factories here are wearing McKinley and Roosevelt buttons, although they intend to vote for Bryan and Stevenson and the entire Democratic ticket, but they say they must show false colors in order to retain their positions.

H. M. Tyler, president of the company employing the two men named, said he did not hire and discharge the men, this being done by a contractor who did the yard work.

"I asked the foreman why he discharged these men," said Mr. Tyler, "and he replied that they had neglected their duties."

The fellow-workmen of Kelly and McCormick say they are steady, efficient men, and that McCormick has lost only three days in six years, while Kelly has been absent only a week during five years.

The nearer the election approaches the more high-handed and bolder this coercion and intimidation become, the coercers doing brazenly what a short while ago they did under cover. That thing was done shamefully and outrageously four years ago and now as the interested schemers are becoming alarmed and desperate they are resorting to the same tyrannical game as openly and as brazenly as they did then, and yet have the gall to talk about a "free ballot and a fair count." Hell is full of better men.

AS A SPANIARD SEES IT.

Admiral Cervera was perhaps the biggest man that figured on the Spanish side in the Spanish-American war. He was defeated and lost the finest fleet that Spain had, but even in defeat he conducted himself with a dignity that raised him in the estimation of the world, especially in the estimation of the people of this country, who admired him and almost sympathized with him in his adversity. He left this country with a high opinion of it, and the American people had as high regard for him as he had for their country. We say this to show that in any expressions of opinions he might make concerning our country could not be inspired by hatred or malice or narrow mindedness. In an interview recently with a correspondent of the New York Post, in speaking of this country and the policy of annexation, he said:

"Oh! It is a great country. But you have made a great mistake over there. You were not satisfied with your own great country, but now you want to reach out—you want to become a power among the older nations of the Europe. That is your mistake. Your country produced everything you required. You were not taxed to support an army or a navy. Stamped paper was unknown over there. No one thought of anything but business and of trade, and, of course, you grew and developed and became very rich. No one on this side wanted to quarrel with you, but now you have changed all this. You will find in your new colonies a drain upon your resources. You would have been better off without them."

Admiral Cervera is a Spaniard, his country has lost the islands he referred to in this extract and therefore there could be no motive in speaking this way but the motive of sincerity inspiring the utterance of a man who is friendly to this country. He speaks as a Spaniard but he speaks the sentiments of millions of Americans who are not carried away by this craze for land grabbing and who believe that we will have business enough to attend to on this continent without getting mixed up with the monarchies on the other side.

The Cubans are progressing and catching on to American ways. A native has been caught tampering with the mails, but he didn't get away with as much as Neely and Rathbone did.

School Teacher's Headache.

It's not a new variety of headache. It's the old pain consequent on conditions which result from study, confinement, and careless eating. It is only one symptom of a derangement of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures headaches by curing the diseases which cause them.

"I was troubled with very frequent headaches, often accompanied by severe vomiting," writes Miss Mary Belle Summerton, of San Diego, Duval Co., Texas. "Bowels were irregular, and my stomach and liver seemed continually out of order. Often I could eat almost nothing, and sometimes absolutely nothing, for twenty-four hours at a time. I was entirely unfit for work, and my whole system seemed so run-down that I feared a severe sick spell and was very much discouraged. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and did so with such satisfactory results that before finishing the third bottle I felt perfectly able to undertake the duties attending public school life, and contracted to do so. I most heartily advise those suffering with indigestion, and its attendant evils, to give this great medicine a fair trial."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels healthy.

BOOK NOTICES.

The Bookman for November presents an excellent list of articles, which not only the literary reader, but the general reader, will enjoy. As usual, "Chronicle and Comment" will be found interesting and valuable. Published by Dodd, Mead & Company, Fifth Avenue, New York.

The magazine reader will be pleased with the November number of Frank Leslie's Monthly, which presents a large and varied list of contents, on topics of interest in this and other countries, handsomely illustrated. Address the Frank Leslie Publishing House, 141-143 Fifth Avenue, New York.

We are under obligations to Messrs. Latham, Alexander & Co., Brokers and Commission Merchants, 16 and 18 Wall street, New York, for a copy of of Cotton Movement and Flucutations 1895 to 1900. This is one of the standauthorities on the movement, prepared with care, and of inestimable value to everyone interested in the cotton business. It is not published for sale but for distibution gratis among patrons of the firm. The special features in this issue are very valuable.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

—Lumberton Robesonian: Mr. H. P. Ratley died at his home near Ashpole on Wednesday from a paralytic stroke. Mr. Ratley was 88 years of age, and has long been a prominent farmer in the neighborhood.

— Lenoir Topic: Mr. Mark Squires, registrar for Lenoir precinct, was presented and a true bill found against him for failing to register negroes prior to the August election. Four negroes were the witnesses against him.

— Alamance Gleaner: At Henderson last week F. M. Marrow was sentenced to four months in jail for manslaughter, and to pay the State counsel $100 and pay all court costs; also to give the child of the dead woman seventy-five acres of land. Mr. Marrow was not confined, but was hired out.

— Newton Enterprise: The concensus of opinion of cotton farmers in this county, except those in the extreme eastern part of the county is, that the crop is turning out fully as well as it did last year. The warm weather has been ripening the late bolls and the lint is much better than last year's.

— Tarboro Southerner: The tenement house which was burned some time ago on the farm of Lam Lawrence, did not burn in the day time. The usual occupants were in the house and one of the parents was sitting up with a sick child. An oil lamp, with no chimney, burning near by exploded and scattered the burning oil over the bedding where the child lay, and over the floor. The child was burned so that it died.

— Goldsboro Argus: After a long lingering illness, borne with heroic fortitude and christian resignation, Maj. L. O. Fonville, the venerable father of our esteemed townsman Mr. I. B. Fonville, fell on sleep, this (Monday) morning, in the 74th year of his age, at his home in this city. —— A telephone line from Wilson is being built towards Goldsboro. The line is coming down the railroad, just outside the railroad limits, and has reached Pikeville. It is being built, so it is understood, by a syndicate of Wilson merchants and when completed will give Goldsboro a long distance eastern connection, extending down through Greene, Pitt and Beaufort counties.

—— Standard Oil Company stock sold in Wall Street Thursday at $605 a share, according to the New York Herald, which goes on to say that this is the highest quotation for the stock of any industrial corporation which is publicly traded in this country. It is believed that the next quarterly dividend of the company will be 12 per cent., making 50 per cent for the year ending with the quarter in question. The concern, as we understand the situation, controls absolutely the oil output of this country.—Richmond Dispatch, Dem.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles 10 cents at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Large numbers of souvenir collectors have chipped away pieces of the rock where the murdered girl was found at Paterson, New Jersey. The American idea of making home cheery with beautiful and interesting objects sometimes gets very loose jointed.—Washington Star, Ind.

—— A Chicago packing house having closed down, thereby throwing 2,000 men out of employment, the "tip" was given out that when it reopened for business special attention would be given to men who voted for McKinley. The men who do this kind of bulldozing are those who never grow tired of denouncing the North Carolina amendment.—Mobile Register, Dem.

—— What constitutes a state for tariff purposes? "All duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States," says the constitution. "Well, we don't know about that," says President McKinley and the abdicated Congress. "No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any state," again says the constitution. "We'll see about that," says the new authority. Under the new ruling could tariff laws be made against Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma?—Cincinnati Enquirer, Dem.

TWINKLINGS.

— Barber (absently)—"Shampoo, sir?" Customer (with shining bald pate)—"No; shine."—Puck.

— "Did that horse dealer do the fair thing by you?" "Well, he told me all the horse's mean tricks after he had sold the beast to me."—Chicago Record

— "Does this climate agree with you?" said the solicitous person. "Very seldom," answered the man of serious mien. "I'm a professional weather prophet."—Washington Star.

— A red letter day: The stranger—"How long have you been civilized!" The native—"Ever since my home was burned to the ground and my wife and children shot."—Life.

— "Well, Daisy, shall we pay the house rent or give a dinner?" "Why, give the dinner, of course! What good will paid-up house rent do us if we lose our social position?"—Life.

— Getting Himself Disliked—"Is young Mr. Dibbins a man of any social discernment?" "No; every time he calls on me he takes my poodle's chair."—Chicago Record.

— Came By It Naturally—Visitor—"What a haughty, overbearing child that little freckle-face is!" Teacher—"It isn't his fault; his mother is a cook and his father the janitor of an apartment house."—Brooklyn Life.

— Worse than the fire: Teacher—"Yes, children, Chicago is one of the great cities of the world, but it once suffered a great calamity. Can any one tell what it was?" Pupil—"Why, it was this here last census."—Puck.

— "It is the man at the top of the ladder who can reach things," remarked the haughty representative of a noble family. "True," remarked the sarcastic man in homespun, "but it is the man at the bottom who can upset the ladder."—Chicago Evening Post.

— "Got that job o' cards done for Doc Pillem?" asked the Jayville editor. "Yes, it's done," replied his foreman. "Joey made a leetle mistake a setin' it up. Mebbe Doc'll kick, but I reckon it ain't so fur wrong." "What is it?" "Joey made it 'prescriptions carefully confounded.'"—Philadelphia Press.

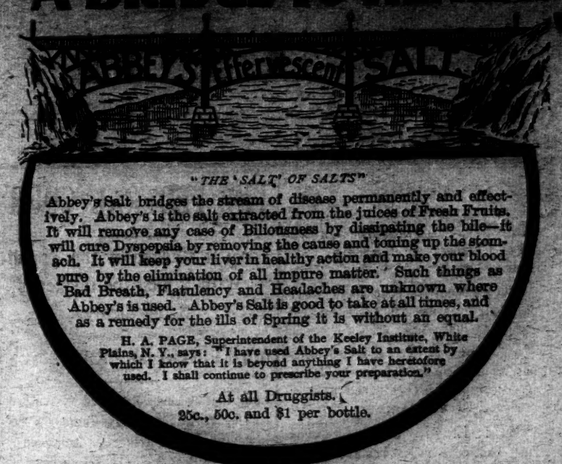
A BRIDGE TO HEALTH



"THE 'SALT' OF SALTS"

Abbey's Salt bridges the stream of disease permanently and effectively. Abbey's is the salt extracted from the juices of Fresh Fruits. It will remove any case of Biliousness by dissipating the bile—it will cure Dyspepsia by removing the cause and toning up the stomach. It will keep your liver in healthy action and make your blood pure by the elimination of all impure matter. Such things as Bad Breath, Flatulency and Headaches are unknown where Abbey's is used. Abbey's Salt is good to take at all times, and as a remedy for the ills of Spring it is without an equal.

H. A. PAGE, Superintendent of the Keeley Institute, White Plains, N. Y., says: "I have used Abbey's Salt to an extent by which I know that it is beyond anything I have heretofore used. I shall continue to prescribe your preparation."

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Speculation in cotton was about moderatily active to-day. Operators were inclined to hesitate in making new ventures. Public cables were unsatisfactory and with no frost in the cotton belt the local contingent sold quite freely on the opening call, causing a decline of three to nine points. The selling was also influenced by full receipts, although later in the session renewed talk of a smaller movement became a factor in turning the market. Indications of cold weather in the Northwest also checked the selling and caused covering. Prices moved up twelve to fifteen points from the lowest figures, but for the most part the local trade was light, while public speculation was, at no time, a feature. After the opening decline there was foreign and Southern buying in addition to the local demand, mostly based on cold weather forecasts and rumors that the Liverpool curb was excited and higher. Estimated large receipts for to-morrow failed to check the demand, which was more active in the afternoon than earlier in the day, and from good parties. The market was generally steady at a net rise of one to seven points.

THE REFLECTION.

An opened path are splashed through and through
With sunshine gems and poppies bowed in silver
The vision of your loveliness and you
My soul mirrored—an opal deep and fair—
Flashing and fainting as a breath of air
Parts in the storm and dies on fallen dew.
But, as the rainbow, faithful in her aim,
Dimples the forehead of the hardest stone,
So did thy glory, constant and the same,
Paint every thought with golden smiles; alone
Its shadows grew a shape, its shape my whole
Glimpse of the world, whose living tints repeat
Thy image, veilless marble and complete,
Fixed in the sunny mirror of my soul.
—J. A. Coll in National Magazine.

MYSTERY OF A BOOK.

It Took Five Years to Find Where It Was Hidden.

"Once in awhile something out of the usual happens in the daily life of government clerks which serves to break the monotony of the work," said a clerk in the interior department.

"Occasionally in all of the departments records or papers will mysteriously disappear, and how they got away or where they went remains always an unsolved problem.

"About five years ago a large book containing the records used in one of the bureaus of this department suddenly disappeared. How it could have got out of the room without hands was unaccountable, as it was a bulky, heavy volume. It was of no value as a salable article, and the motive of the theft was as inexplicable as it whereabouts.

"Diligent search was made at once, but to no avail. The search was not given up, however, and was afterward periodically made in hopes that it would be found in an unexpected place.

"And it was found in such a place a few days ago. One of the clerks happened to look upon the seat of the chair of another clerk—an elderly lady with poor eyesight—and there, under a piece of outer covering, lay the big book. The lady is a short person, and the book had faithfully preserved its records and held her up for five long and weary years without complaint. There was a general laugh at her expense, but the chief was very glad it was eventually found in the office.

"Official papers are often blown from the desks of clerks into the street. Sometimes they are of importance, but usually they may be replaced with a slight delay constituting the only loss.

"A clerk carelessly laid five $10 bills on his desk in a room on the Seventh street side of the former postoffice department building on a pay day a few years ago. It was during the prevalence of the high wind preceding a heavy thunderstorm. A minute later the bills were taken up by a gust of wind and went sailing in all directions high in the air above the street. Where they landed was never known, for none was recovered.

"The clerk took his loss philosophically when he got over the shock and said that while he had heard of it raining cats and dogs, he could testify in any court that he had seen it rain crisp new $10 bills in Washington.

"One day in this department some valuable papers disappeared. It was thought they had been stolen. Several weeks subsequently they were discovered under the corner of a desk occupied by a temporary clerk. She had thought them of no value, and had placed them in this position to preserve the equilibrium of the desk, one of the rollers being lost."—Washington Star.

A Little Superstitious.

"You know how the commuter hates to miss a ferryboat," said the woman, "and you also know how crowded the streets are leading toward the ferries at all hours of the day? Crowds of men and women, too, hurry over the crossings under the very noses of horses, dodging the trolley cars, pushing and scrambling in that eternal rush to get along and lose no time about it. But the other day I saw a regular small sized throng lose a boat in a totally unnecessary manner.

"Just as I reached the curbing on one side of a street that lay between me and the ferry I noticed a little line of men and women pausing nonchalantly on the near side, and in a moment I saw what was the matter—a funeral procession was passing slowly along, with plenty of room between the carriages for folks to get across. But the folks thought differently about it and waited for the last carriage to get by."

"Did you go right across?" some one asked the woman.

"Oh, well, I—well, I just waited, too," she said.—New York Sun.

Seeds Planted In Eggshells.

Of course you have read Celia Thaxter's "My Garden," but have you, amateur gardeners, remembered a little plan of hers for planting seeds, flower seeds, in eggshells? You know, you just fill half a shell with good rich earth, stick in a seed or two, stand the shells up in a box of earth, keep them warm and moist, and then, when you think you can trust the weather out of doors and the seeds have sprouted, you knock the shell off and put the little ball of earth into Mother Earth, and there you are. Not a root has been disturbed, and if you choose a favorable time for transplanting there will not be a wilted leaf to retard the growing of the plant.—Boston Transcript.

The Germ of Bad Manners.

"Independence is a trait I like in Americans," said a girl near me the other day. "To think that 'I am as good as every one else' puts a strain of confidence into me."

"That same reflection, 'I am as good as every one else,' is at the bottom of a great deal of our proverbial bad manners," was the reply. "Would it not be better to think 'every one else is as good as I am?'" It certainly is a commendable trait to be self reliant so far as material affairs are concerned, but there is an equality of worth to be recognized in others which is above the obligations to self.—Ada C. Sweet in Woman's Home Companion.

Plymouth Rock.

Plymouth rock has become an object of veneration in the United States because of its interesting historical associations. As is well known, it is the rock or ledge on which the pilgrims are believed to have landed when they first stepped from their boats in the harbor of what is now Plymouth, Mass. In 1775 part of the rock was removed to the vicinity of Pilgrim hall, but was afterward restored to its original site and is now under the stone canopy that surmounts the main rock on Water street. Charles Sumner said, "From the deck of the Mayflower, from the landing at Plymouth rock, to the senate of the United States is a mighty contrast, covering whole spaces of history hardly less than from the wolf that suckled Romulus and Remus to that Roman senate which, on curule chairs, swayed Italy and the world."

DEFECTIVE EYESIGHT.

Three Common Conditions That Call For Correction by Glasses.

The three defects of eyesight which are most commonly encountered in otherwise healthy persons and which can be more or less perfectly overcome by means of glasses are nearsightedness, farsightedness and astigmatism. These are all important, for besides the discomfort and annoyance of imperfect sight the involuntary efforts which the sufferer makes to see better strain the eyes and not only injure them, but also give rise through reflex action to headaches and various nervous disturbances.

Nearsightedness, shortsightedness or myopia, as it is variously called, is a condition of the eyeball, usually a lengthening, in consequence of which the rays of light are brought to a focus in front of the retina, and so the object is blurred.

This condition may exist from birth, but is usually the result of too much and too early use of the eyes, as in the case of students, engravers, women who do fine sewing and so forth. Thus we may say that putting children to work at some of the kindergarten exercises, such as perforating and drawing, is in a double sense a shortsighted procedure.

Many nearsighted people refuse to wear glasses, preferring to deprive themselves of sight for everything beyond the nose rather than to injure their personal appearance, as they think. This is another shortsighted policy, for besides losing much of the joy of existence which comes from seeing the beautiful things about and above us such persons are very liable to suffer from inflammation of the eyes, produced by constant strain.

A less common defect is long or far sightedness, or hypermetropia. This is the opposite of myopia, the eyeball being flattened or shortened and the rays of light consequently not coming to a focus by the time they reach the retina.

In this case the eye often corrects the defect more or less successfully by making the crystalline lens more convex, but it does this at the expense of the sufferer's nervous force, and so we often find tired and congested eyes, headaches, indigestion and even serious nervous affections. The effort to correct the vision is entirely voluntary and can be overcome only by the fitting of suitable convex glasses.

The third and most common defect is astigmatism. In this condition there is some irregularity of the surface of the eye or of the lens, by means of which the image as it reaches the retina is distorted. Untreated astigmatism is a frequent cause of headache and other nervous disturbances. The only relief is the wearing of glasses, at least while reading, writing or whenever near objects are looked at.—Youth's Companion.

HE WANTED A DIME.

How the Tramp Intended to Recklessly Squander That Amount.

"No, I never question beggars," said an old citizen who had just handed a small coin to a typical hobo who "braced" him on a St. Charles street corner the other day. "If the case appeals on its surface to my sympathy, I give, and if not, I don't, and there the matter ends.

"One night several years ago I was standing almost at this very spot, when a most disreputable looking tramp shambled up and asked me for a dime. His clothes were in rags and tatters; he wore one battered tan gaiter and one cloth slipper; his nose resembled a ripe tomato, and he had a dilapidated billycock hat perched on the extreme back of his head. In those days I had a foolish idea that I ought to be very careful not to encourage intemperance by indiscriminate alms, so I looked the apparition over and hardened my heart.

"'I would gladly give you a dime,' I said, 'if I thought it would really do you any good, but I am satisfied you would immediately spend it for rum.'

"'No, cap'n, you're dead wrong,' he said earnestly. 'I don't intend to do nuthin of th' kind.'

"'Well, then, I'll make a bargain with you,' I replied. 'If you'll tell me exactly and truthfully what you propose to do with it I'll give you the money.'

"'Is dat straight?' he asked.

"'Certainly,' I answered.

"'Den come with me,' he said mysteriously.

"My curiosity was aroused, and I followed him half way down the block, where he turned into an alley and led me to the further end. The place was silent as the grave, and not a soul was in sight, but he looked cautiously up and down and peered behind a pile of boxes before he spoke.

"'Now gimme de dime an I'll tell ye,' he whispered hoarsely. I handed it over. 'Can ye keep a secret?' 'Yes, I guess so.' 'Well, I'm goin to get me boots blacked.'"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 31.

THE POPULATION OF THE UNITED STATES.

Total for the United States 76,295,220. A Gain of 13,225,464 During the Past Ten Years.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 30.—The official announcement of the total population of the United States for 1890 is 76,295,220, of which 74,627,907 are contained in the forty-five States, representing approximately the population to be used for apportionment purposes. There is a total of 134,158 Indians not taxed. The total population in 1890, with which the aggregate population of the present census should be compared, was 63,069,756. Taking the 1890 population as a basis there has been a gain in population of 13,225,464 during the past ten years, representing an increase of nearly 21 per cent.

Following is the official announcement of the population of the United States in 1900 by States. In the figures the first column represents the census for 1900, and the second for 1890:

LYNCHING IN ALABAMA.

Negro Man Killed for Criminal Assault on a White Girl.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., October 30.—At Duke, a small station on the L. & N. and East and West railways, sixteen miles north of Anniston, last night, an 18-year-old negro youth, named Abernathy, made a criminal assault on a 14-year-old adopted daughter of W. N. Thompson, section foreman on the Louisville & Nashville. The negro was captured three hours after the attempt and was identified and lynched. Those who composed the lynching party are said to be among the best citizens of the community, and they went about the work quietly and orderly. The negro was found at the home of another negro in the neighborhood.

COMPLETED HIS NEW YORK TOUR.

Hon. Wm. J. Bryan Wound Up His Campaign in the Empire State.

SPEECHES AT MANY PLACES.

A Rousing Reception to the Democratic Champion Early in the Morning at Port Jervis—His Views as to Chances in New York

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., October 30.—W. J. Bryan concluded the final day of his campaign tour in this city last night. He began the day at the town of Addison, and spoke at a number of places, all of which are in the southwestern part of the State, and have been strongly Republican in politics. The meetings of the day were generally well attended, and some of them quite enthusiastic. Mr. Bryan left late to night on the Lake Shore railroad for Ohio, expecting to begin a one day tour of that State with a speech at Toledo to morrow morning at 11 o'clock. All told, he had made about 110 speeches in this State.

Before leaving here to-night, Mr. Bryan made a brief statement, giving his impression of the situation in New York. He said:

"If the reports which came from the various counties where polls have been made can be taken as representing the general sentiment throughout the State, we have more than an even chance of carrying the State."

At Port Jervis.

HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y., October 30.—Mr. Bryan began his last day of the New York campaign tour at the town of Addison, a few miles east of this place. He made a five-minute speech there from the rear platform of the "Rambler," a few minutes before 9 o'clock and notwithstanding a quite heavy rain was falling at the time there was a big crowd present to greet him and to bid him God speed as he left for the West.

Mr. Bryan entered his coach at Jersey City just about midnight. Arduous as had been his duties yesterday, his rest was not unbroken during the night. He had received a request before leaving New York to make a stop at Port Jervis, and had reluctantly consented to do so. When the train arrived, the town in the vicinity of the railroad station seemed ablaze with Roman candles, sky rockets and Greek fire. People were yelling and hooting like Indians and displaying banners and shouting, "we won't go home till morning," and "we'll hold up the train till daylight."

Mr. Bryan dressed himself in a few minutes and going to the rear platform, attempted to make a speech. The people were, however, so full of enthusiasm that it was difficult for him to find opportunity to proceed. In the crowd were many women, and some of them held babies in their arms. Mr. Bryan's talk was broken by so many cheers and so much noise that he only attempted to say that he found them so enthusiastic that he did not feel it was necessary to make them a speech, even if he could do so under more propitious surroundings. He asked them to stand by their convictions and not to allow themselves to be swerved by either bribe or threat.

Speech at Elmira.

Soon after daylight Mr. Bryan's train passed through Elmira, where Governor Roosevelt's train was tied-up, preparatory to beginning his day's work. Mr. Bryan was sound asleep at the time and there was no exchange of courtesies between the rival candidates. At this point Mr. Bryan elaborated the theory advanced by him yesterday, to the effect that the Republicans had already abandoned their principal campaign argument, which was the full dinner pail. Starting with the proposition that the Republican platform was largely devoted to the subject of prosperity, he said:

"Compare the space devoted to congratulation with the space devoted to all other questions and you will find that the Republicans expected to make the issue on the grand prosperity argument. The full dinner pail is full of holes; the full dinner pail is the most completely beaten up emblem that any party ever had. Why is it that the dinner pail is referred to more by Democratic speakers than it is by Republican speakers? If a Republican attempts to refer to the dinner pail now, they ask him, 'How about the anthracite coal regions.' I do not believe that the laboring man to day is receiving his fair share of the wealth he produces or his fair share of the protection of government."

DUNKIRK, N. Y., October 30.—Mr. Bryan's train did not reach this place until 9 o'clock to-night but after his arrival he made three speeches, one in the open air and the other two in public halls. There were large audiences at each of these places. The principal one was at the Nelson Opera House. He began his speech there at 10 o'clock being introduced as "Mr. Bryan, of New York."

THE CHINESE DIFFICULTY.

Meeting of Foreign Ministers in Pekin. Proceedings Kept Secret—The Situation in Pao Ting Fu.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

PEKIN, October 28.—A meeting of the diplomatists was held this morning to consider the form of the negotiations for a settlement of the China difficulty. The decision arrived at is kept secret, in order to prevent any information from reaching the Chinese.

PAO TING FU, October 24.—The city of Pao Ting Fu has been divided into districts under the superintendance of the various nationalities represented in the occupying force. Looting is strictly forbidden in the British quarter; but the Germans, French and Italians have sacked their respective districts.

The international committee, which is inquiring into the massacre of the foreigners here, has ordered the arrest of three Chinese officials.

An Italian lieutenant, while reconnoitering in the hills with sixteen men, was surrounded by Boxers. A rescue force composed of 150 British and sixty Italian cavalrymen will leave to-night to drive off the Chinese.

In the Yangtse Valley.

LONDON, October 31.—"Most serious trouble," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express "is brewing in the Yangtse region, where the Empress Dowager has sent emissaries to raise powerful armed bodies to exterminate converts and expel foreigners. She has appointed Yu Chuan, a notoriously anti-foreign general, to be military governor of the Yangtse district. In the Province of Kwang Tung, according to the Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail, the rebellion is subsiding, owing to the scarcity of arms and ammunition.

CLEARING AWAY RUINS OF THE GREAT EXPLOSION.

Charred Remains of Bodies Found in the Burning Debris—Thirty-four Persons Still Missing.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—All the efforts of the authorities are now directed to clearing away the ruins of the Tarrant and other buildings wrecked in the great explosion of yesterday, in the desire to find out how many bodies are buried in them and to ascertain what was the cause of the explosion. The effort of the searchers for the dead was rewarded this evening by the finding of the remains of H. C. A. Schmidt, of 55 Clinton street, Brooklyn, and the discovery of what looks to be the dead bodies of three other people. Schmidt was an engraver and had an office on the third floor of 101 Warren street. The body could be seen pinned down under a mass of twisted iron, but could not be gotten at to-night. Identification was made by a nephew of Schmidt. At the northwest of the Tarrant building, at Warren and Greenwich streets, a mass of clothing and indiscriminate articles was come across and the mass was said to be the bodies of three people. The firemen went to work with a will to dig out the mass and at ten o'clock brought to light a portion of a woman's foot and the top of a crushed-in skull. The skull had long brown hair attached, and is supposedly that of a woman. During to day Superintendent Dooner had a very large force of men working as hard as possible tearing down piles of debris and removing it.

Just before midnight a workman found a black cheviot coat in the exact spot where the human remains had been found. In the pockets were four cents and an application for membership in the West End Republican Club.

Shortly afterward, in the same place, an entirely unrecognizable mass of human flesh was found. A half coat was also found at this time.

The Fire Burned All Day

and toward night was practically to the end of the mass of debris at Washington and Warren streets. The fire runs back for some distance and is burning fiercely. There were no new men at work to night. Superintendent Dooner was using the same force that he had all day, but will get a largely increased force to-morrow. The reason assigned for having no new men is that the ruins are so hot that but few can get at them yet, and the men have to work at outside walls and debris in the streets. There has been found to be much difficulty in getting contractors' carts in Warren and Greenwich streets. What space is not used by fire engines is nearly all taken up with piles of debris.

One hundred and eighty patrolmen, under Captain Westervelt and Inspector Brooks were stationed at the ruins at 6 o'clock, relieving the day force. Both Inspector Brooks and Captain Westervelt were skeptical over the reported large loss of life. They both said they did not expect more than four or five bodies would be found in the ruins.

Playing on the still burning ruins were four engines and they kept their streams going continually.

List of Missing.

A revised list made up to ten o'clock to-night shows thirty-four persons still missing.

At 10.30 o'clock a portion of a human trunk, probably the abdomen, was dug out and a little later a brown canvas coat. There was nothing in the pockets but four quill toothpicks. Still later, the firemen found another portion of a skull and a portion of a human back. Dr. Comer, of the health department, who examined the remains, said they were probably all from the same person, as were the foot and portion of a skull found earlier. The remains were all found in the Tarrant building.

FERRELL TO HANG.

The Train Robber Charged With Murder of Express Messenger Lane.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MARYSVILLE, O., Oct. 30.—The jury has rendered a verdict of murder in the first degree without recommendation against Rosslyn Ferrell, the train robber charged with the murder of Express Messenger Lane. The verdict carries with it the death sentence.

The murder was committed for the purpose of robbery. Ferrell secured $1,000 in money from the way safe of the Adams Express Company.

The crime was not denied, but the plea was made that he was mentally irresponsible and an attempt was made to show that insanity was hereditary in the Ferrell family.

INCREASED THIRTY PER CENT.

The Area Under Cotton Cultivation in Russian Asia.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 30.—Official reports show that the area under cotton cultivation in Russian central Asia has increased thirty per cent. this year. The crop is estimated at 7,500,000 poods or half the Russian requirements; previously only six million poods had been procured from Russian possessions. This result is attributed to the increased raw cotton import duty introduced last winter. The situation in the cotton industries is improving.

VENEZUELA EARTHQUAKE.

Town of Guarenas Destroyed and Twenty-five Lives Lost.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

CARACAS, VENZ., Oct. 30.—Yesterday's earthquake destroyed the town of Guarenas, resulting in the loss of twenty-five lives.

Nearly the entire population of Caracas passed last night in the streets or on squares of the city. Slight tremors, following the severe shocks, have recurred at intervals and still continue.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT HIGHWAY ROBBERY

A Pay Clerk and His Companion Attacked by Four Italian Miners.

A DESPERATE FIGHT ENSUED.

The Pay Clerk Killed and His Assistant Wounded—Two of the Robbers Are Dead, a Third Fatally Wounded and the Fourth in Jail.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., Oct. 30.—Four Italian miners attempted to rob pay clerk William Hosler, of the Southwest Connelsville Coke Company, while making his trip between this city and Alverton, with the pay roll of the Alverton and Tarr works, amounting to $4,000. Mr. Hosler is dead, his companion, Harry Burgess, messenger of the company, is wounded, two of the Italians are dead, a third is fatally wounded and the fourth is in jail.

Hosler and Burgess left this city at 1 o'clock this afternoon with the safe containing the money to pay off the men at the Alverton and Tarr works. As they reached the summit of the long hill above Morewood, just below which lies Alverton, a large coke town, without a second's warning the four Italians fired a volley from their hiding place, and sprang forward, firing as they advanced. Mr. Hosler fell dead at the first volley. Young Burgess, though wounded, was able to return their fire with effect, and one of the number who were standing at the horses' heads, fell dead. A second later he fired his revolver in the face of another, and as he fell his two remaining companions became terrified, and leaving the dead one, set out with the wounded one over the hill to the south in the direction of the Alice mines.

Burgess managed to drive on into Alverton with the body of Mr. Hosler and the safe, where he gave the alarm. Mount Pleasant and vicinity, with the clerical force of the coke company, turned out about five hundred strong, headed by Lieut Jno. G. Thompson, of company E, and soon corralled the two, who had concealed themselves in a field on the Durstine farm, a mile or so from this town. A summons to surrender was answered by a volley in which one of the posse received a slight wound on the chest. The outlaws, from their fortified position, made a fierce stand for a few minutes until one of the posse succeeded in getting in their rear. He shot one through the head, killing him instantly. The other surrendered and was brought to the office of 'Squire Rhodes and remanded to jail.

In the meantime another division of the posse overhauled the third would-be robber, who had received a ghastly wound. The ball entering his mouth and penetrating his head, came out at the back of his neck. He is not expected to recover.

BOERS HARRASS THE BRITISH

Strong British Measures—Boer Women Imprisoned and Deported—Many Trains Derailed.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail comments upon the "astonishing outburst of Boer activity," and points to the possibility of the Boers having been considerably reinforced. Complaints are being heard regarding the premature disbanding and dispensing with the services of the various volunteer forces.

CRADOCK, CAPE COLONY, Oct. 30.—The Dutch church is the only building left standing in Bothaville, owing it is reported, to the strong British measures. More Boer women have been deported from Jagersfontein. They were sent to Bloemfontein, where they are imprisoned with others a few miles outside of the city.

BLOEMFONTEIN, Oct. 26.—The telegraph lines are still interrupted and mails delayed, owing to the Boers derailing a train ten miles south of Edenburg.

All Boers over fourteen years of age, living within a radius of ten miles from Bloemfontein, are being surrounded by British troops and brought here, to prevent their rejoining the commandoes.

IN A DEN OF LIONS.

A Farmer Terribly Mangled at the Paris Hippodrome Last Evening.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

PARIS, October 31, 5 A. M.—A lion tamer who daily enters a cage containing three lions in the Paris hippodrome was terribly mauled last evening. His foot slipped, and the largest animal sprang upon him, tearing his arms and face with its teeth and claws. Without losing his presence of mind, he kept the animal at bay by the aid of his whip until he was rescued.

In the excitement the cage door was left open for fully a minute, but the savage occupants did not take advantage of the opportunity to escape among the frightened spectators.

COAL MINE EXPLOSION.

Five Men Lost Their Lives and Six Others Were Badly Injured.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 30.—A heavy explosion of gas occurred in No. 3 slope of No. 1 shaft of the Kingston Coal Company at 3 o'clock this afternoon, in which five men lost their lives and six others were badly injured. Five of the six injured are in a precarious condition and it is doubtful if they can survive.

NEW YORK FOR BRYAN.

A Close Canvass of the State Gives the Democratic Candidate Fifty Thousand Majority.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, October 30.—Executive Chairman James K. McGuire, of the Democratic State Committee, gave out to-night the first estimate from the Democratic State Committee on how the State would go. He said:

"Our canvass of the State gives Bryan fifty thousand majority and it also shows that the Republicans will not come to the Bronx with more than 70,000 majority. I have refrained from making any statement heretofore until our canvass was completed. This estimate on our canvass is a very conservative one."
